ROAD OF GOLD

It started out like any other work day. I was on my way to work, when i noticed they started working on a road in an old part of Salt Lake City. I've hunted the road around the corner from this one and a lot of old coins and tokens were found there, so I thought this one will be just as good. I did not go and start hunting right away, because there were still working there. I continued on to my work, planning to return when they quit there for the day.

Later that day I returned with my working partner and one of my other hunting partners. The three of us set out with high hopes. Things were slow at first with not much coming out of the ground. Again having hunted the road around the corner and it having to produce many great finds, we kept on hunting. Pretty soon one of us started to find a few coins, but nothing very old yet. We started thinking that maybe they took to much dirt out of this road because they had cut this road down about four feet. Not to be discouraged we kept hunting anyway.

Pretty soon I started finding signs of some older items out in the middle of the road, pieces of old bottles and part of old shoes. As I glanced up I noticed one of my hunting partners way down the road hunting pretty hard and finding a few old coins there. He proceeded to leave this spot to search more of the road. I moved over to the spot to where he was hunting to try my luck and to see if any thing was missed. This road was built thru a very old part of the city. While talking to one of the neighbors there he explained to me that the pioneers had taken the granite blocks to be shaped and hand -tooled for the Salt Lake Temple, before being taken to the site of the temple. This would be even more the reason for very old coins to be hidden there.

As I started to detect were my friend had left a a myriad of holes, and being in the deepest part of the road cut, and to my disbelief I started finding pull-tabs. This did not stop my hopes of finding something good. A neighbors was watching me hunt when a got a very solid nickel hit, upon digging this target about five inches in the hard pack of the road. The target pin pointed in the clump of dirt below the coil, grasping the dirt in my had and being a lot more heavy then a normal coin. There it was !! GOLD A GOLD COIN. I couldn't believe it. I did not scream or shout but walk quietly over to my other hunting partners, and told him to hold out his hand and and a heavy plop in his hand and GOLD WOW!! It turned out to be a two and a half dollar Liberty head 1854-c coin what a find. After our heart had resumed there normal rate again, we continued hunting again with out finding much more that day.

During the next two months of this road project we still hunted more and more each day. Many of the other club members started to come down and hunt this site with a lot of older coins being found, but nothing real old yet.

NEXT PAGE.....

As with any old road it does have it share of good finds. Coins that where found so far were, some shield nickels, v nickels, many wheat cents, with a few nice Indian head cents being found also. Barber dimes were found and some seated dime were found also. About seven tokens had come out of the road also, but no more gold coins.

As this construction project was starting to wind down and not to much more being found the past several times hunting there. We had returned one more time to this old road as many of our friends had still been hunting and had said they had removed a little more of the road on the east section there. We met our other hunting partner there and he had mentioned that they had some big phone cables that had been uncovered and moved out of they way in the dirt, leaving a small impression in the dirt where it had been laid. I started hunting this impressing in the dirt. While only covering about twenty feet in distance, got a very strong nickel hit. I thought to my self no way could lighting hit twice in the same spot. Low and behold another GOLD COIN WOW!! This time it was a Preussen Ten Mark 1879 gold coin. Two gold coin from the same road just don't get any better than that.

Well this road project is finished but the memory of that road will always be there. I will always watch for more old road projects like this one to take place. Who knows maybe they have friends in other roads just waiting to be found. Well happy hunting and don't pass up those construction projects like that one.
